

Brentwood Academy
Theatre Appreciation Course Description

In this course, students will explore many aspects of theatre from the stage to behind the scenes. Students will be exposed to the history of theater, jobs and responsibilities within the theatre, and study the structure of multiple types of plays. This can include participating in introductory units of theatre production, faux finishing, costume design and construction, period wig styling, paper-mache, small power tools, and other art mediums used to create props used in a live show. The students will learn basic theatre terminology, an overview of theatre history, and be able to see the fruits of their labor on the stage throughout the year. Students will build confidence in a positive and creative environment.
